

Is solar power generation a national strategy

In 2011, DOE launched the SunShot Initiative, a national effort to make subsidy-free solar power cost-competitive with other sources of electricity by the end of the decade.

We expect the combined share of generation from solar power and wind power to rise from about 18% in 2025 to about 21% in 2027. In our STEO forecast, utility-scale solar is the fastest-growing source of ...

Taken together, these efforts illustrate the Biden Administration's multipronged approach to incentivizing solar energy generation and other renewable energy sources in the United States.

In 2019, SEIA laid out a vision for the 2020s in our Roadmap for the Solar+ Decade. In that roadmap, we set a target for solar energy to reach 20% of generation by 2030 as the U.S. transforms the ...

Japan's "Green Growth Strategy" links solar energy policies with other renewable energy and climate initiatives, ensuring a coherent national strategy for achieving carbon neutrality by 2050.

This memorandum establishes a national strategy to ensure the development and use of SSP systems to enable and achieve the climate, national security, commercial, space exploration and space science ...

Clean generation--nuclear, hydropower, wind, solar, and more--is currently responsible for approximately 40% of the nation's electricity supply and forms the foundation on which clean energy growth can build.

Although the United States lacks a consistent, long-term solar industrial policy like China's, the combination of tariffs, goals, and incentives established by the U.S. government over the last 15 years ...

Solar deployment and electric vehicle (EV) sales broke records in 2023 and 2024. Renewables now dominate new power generation capacity, while new domestic clean energy manufacturing facilities are ...

Deploying solar quickly in the US will be instrumental to achieving the nation's climate goals and keeping the planet livable. A multi-solving, whole-of-government approach to planning and coordination could ...
