What makes a good solar salesperson?

To be an effective solar salesperson, you must know your audience. This means understanding their unique needs and concerns, as well as their level of knowledge about solar energy. If you're talking to a homeowner, for example, you'll need to understand their energy usage patterns and what motivates them to consider solar.

Why should you hire a solar salesman?

The solar industry is growing rapidly, and by 2024, it's estimated that 2.5% of all U.S. homes will have solar panels installed. This growth means that there will be an increasing need for skilled solar salespeople who can help homeowners and businesses make the switch to solar energy.

How do I incorporate social proof into my solar sales strategy?

Here are a few ways to incorporate social proof into your solar sales strategy: Include customer testimonials on your website, social media, and other marketing materials. Share positive reviews and ratings on third-party review sites, such as Yelp or Google My Business.
